Example- Use Case Diagram for four wheeler driving

Use case diagram for "Issue book" use case in Library Management System

Library Information System- identify actors

Table 1: List of actors
Actor	Description
Member	Can avail LIS facilities; could be student or professor,
Librarian	Update inventory and other administrative tasks
Library staff	Handle day-to-day activities with the LIS
DB Server	To store member and book details

Library Information System- identify use cases (scenarios)

Table 2: List of use cases
No.	Use Case	Description
UC1	Register	Allows to register with the LIS and create an account for all transactions
UC2	User login	LIS authenticates a member to let him avail the facilities
UC3	Search book	A member can search for a book
UC4	Issue book	Allows a member to issue a specified book against his account
UC5	Return book	To return a book, which has been issued earlier by a member
UC6	Reissue book	To reissue a book
UC7	User logout	User logs out from the system

Table: UC5 -Issue book

Use Case	UC5-Issue book
Description	Allows a member to issue a specified book against his account
Assumptions	• User is logged in • The book is available • User's account has not exceeded the limit of maximum books that can be issued (student & faculty book issue accounts has different issue limits)
Actors	. Member (primary) . Library staff
Steps	• User logs in • User searches for a book • User clicks on "Issue" button to issue the book • User's account is updated • Library staff delivers the book

Use case diagram showing "Issue book" use case (scenario)

